

Brand New Overwater Restaurant

Not only has the brand-new Kangaroo Point Green Bridge vastly improved access to The City's waterfront, the crossing's completion has also brought about the arrival of two top-notch eateries.

Stilts, Tassis Group's brand-new overwater restaurant, follows hot on the heels of its all-day sibling Mulga Bill's, which together have helped reignite an often overlooked corner of Brisbane City.

Boasting breathtaking panoramic views and a top-notch menu of modern-Australian fare, Stilts is elevating the standard of the inner-city dining scene.

Cartel Del Taco

Cartel Del Taco is bringing a piece of Mexico to New Farm with a brand-new outpost a short tortilla toss from Merthyr Village.

Recently opened, the new location has expanded its scope beyond tacos, enhancing their nighttime menu with a new suite of woodfired dishes and debuting a brand-new breakfast offering.

Much like the OG venue across the river, expect to find authentic an authentic fitout with custom artwork.

Brisbane Market Update

Brisbane continues to be one of Australia's strongest capital city housing markets and is likely to remain so in 2025 with home prices sitting 12% above November 2023 levels.

The trendy riverside suburbs of New Farm, Newstead, and Teneriffe are always in high demand among young professionals and downsizers looking for lifestyle-driven apartment living.

With their proximity to the CBD, high-end dining options, and recreational facilities, boutique apartments here have strong rental demand and capital growth potential.
